U. V. M. WINS AGAIN BY ONE RUN MARGIN

Middlebury Rally in Ninth Raises Hopes but Varsity Loses 4-3

TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

Hulihan Relieves Elmer in Fifth and Allows But Two Hits

Before a large crowd that numbered only a comparatively small representation of Middlebury rooters, at Centennial Field, Monday afternoon, Vermont and Middlebury fought out the second game of their annual series, and the Blue again lost to the Burlington team by a one run margin, the score being 4-3. The teams were about as evenly matched as two teams ever were but the Green and Gold got to Elmer, who started for Middlebury, early in the contest for enough hits coupled with three Middlebury errors, to pile up a four run lead which their opponents were not able to overcome during the course of the game.

Hulihan who took Elmer's place after the fatal third and fourth innings pitched a wonderful game, holding the Vermont sluggers to only two hits, striking out five, and preventing further scoring.

Middlebury Starts Scoring

Middlebury took a two-run lead in the first inning before Newton got settled down. The Vermont twirler walked Hastings, the first man to face him. Gallagher singled to left. Timberman sacrificed, putting men on second and third. Elmer rolled one toward the first base line for the second sacrifice, Hastings scoring on the play. Hulihan singled, scoring Gallagher. Mead hit to Brock, who touched Hulihan on the way to second for the third out.

Vermont Ties It Up

It was not until the third that Vermont was able to put a run across the plate. Newton led off in this inning reaching first on Whitmore's second error but was caught at second when Conlin hit to Elmer. Harris sacrificed Conlin to second. Billings singled to left, scoring Conlin. After Billings had pilfered the second sack Burns singled to left which scored Billings. Burns also stole second. At this stage of the game, Elmer retired to left field and Hulihan came in from that position and pulled the Blue and White out of the hole, Tryon making the third out, Vose to Gallagher.

Elmer returned to the mound in the next innings and was again hit freely. Garrity walked but was out at second when Spillane hit to Hastings. Brock sacrificed and Newton hit into center for a double, scoring Spillane. Hastings let Conlin's hit to short get through him and Newton scored. Harris ended the inning by flying out to Vose.

Hulihan Returns to Mound

This settled Elmer's pitching for the day, Hulihan going to the mound in the fifth and holding Vermont scoreless during the remainder of the game. In the seventh, Vermont seriously threatened to score, however. After Billings had walked and Burns had flied out to Gallagher, Tryon placed a nice little pop fly into short center field for a clean hit. Then one of Hulihan's shoots hit Garrity in the ribs and the bases were full, with only one out. Hulihan here showed some excellent pitching, making Spillane fly out to Gallagher and fanning Brock.

R. WAYNE TO ASSIST AT ENGLISH SCHOOL

Stage Manager of The 47 Workshop Secured for Summer Session

WILL AID DRAMA COURSES

Little Theater at Bread Loaf To Be Remodeled Under His Direction

The appointment to the staff of the English School at Bread Loaf of Mr. Rolla L. Wayne, Stage Manager of The 47 Workshop ,is announced. Mr. Wayne will assist Miss Alice H. Spaulding, Secretary-Treasurer of The 47 Workshop from its beginning, in the courses in Play Production, which are a special feature of the English School. In these courses students will have actual practice in all details of staging a play, including the principles of coaching, the theory and practice of stage design and management, the construction of scenery, costumes, and properties, as well as acting in plays. In all the work in play production at Bread Loaf the principles of The 47 Workshop are applied.

History of The 47 Workshop

The 47 Workshop, which has come to be one of the best known dramatic institutions in the country, is so called because it was the outgrowth of English 47, a course in play writing at Harvard. The Workshop was established in 1912 under the direction of Professor George P. Baker. Its main purpose is to try out plays actually written at Harvard and Radcliffe, and it has already produced several which have proved big hits on Broadway. This spring The 47 Workshop Company conducted its first extended tour, appearing at Worcester, New York City, Utica, Buffalo, and Cleveland.

Mr. Wayne, who was Manager of the Workshop Tour, comes to Bread Loaf especially recommended by Professor Baker. Mr. Wayne took his A. B. at the University of Louisville In 1920 and graduates this spring from The 47 Workshop at Harvard. He has been doing special work also at the Harvard School of Fine Arts and the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. In his Senior year at Louisville he taught freehand drawing at the University and was Technical Director of the University of Louisville Players in 1919-20, besides making all stage designs for their productions during the four years of his college course. He entered the army in 1918 and was put in charge of stage and settings for the Liberty Theaters by the U. S. Government, continuing in this position until the close of the war. He has designed, built, and painted the majority of the settings for The 47 Workshop during the past year, and has won the Adair Archer Harvard Prize for stage design, and several prizes in competitions in stage design at the Boston Museum.

Mr. Wayne to Remodel Theater

Under Mr. Wayne's direcion it 's expected that the Little Theater at Bread Loaf will be completely remodelled; he will have charge of the staging of the plays given during the session of the English School. His coming to Bread Loaf means an extension of the work so successfully begun last year under the direction of Miss Spaulding. This year Miss Spaulding, who is in general charge of the courses in drama at Bread Loaf, will give in addition to the work in play produc-

DR. THOMAS AND GOV. MILLER TO BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS AT COMMENCEMENT

VARSITY SCORES 5-3 WIN OVER NORWICH

Hulihan Strikes Out Twelve While Blue Batters Find Styles for Ten Hits—Elmer Knocks Homer

By striking out twelve men in eight innings and allowing but five scattered hits, Hulihan, Middlebury's star southpaw, pitched a 5-3 victory over Norwich Saturday at Porter Field. Styles, the opposing pitcher, was found for ten safe drives and earned only five strike outs. Two unusual plays and occasional hard extra base whallops enlivened the interest in the game. In the first inning Hastings was hit by a batted ball while running from second to third and in the second Vose caught Hyland off third by the old hidden ball trick.

Elmer Starts For Midlebury

Elmer started for Middlebury but was hit freely and retired in the second inning in favor of Hulihan who kept the Norwich sluggers well in check from then on. Middlebury started the scoring in the first inning when Elmer hit a stinging grounder over third base which bounded over the fence for a home run and scored Timberman before him. In the fifth Middlebury scored two more when Hastings got a hit and crossed the plate when Gallagher landed on a choice one for three bases. Gallagher then followed Hastings home when Timberman also hit safely. The last score was made in the eighth when Elmer got on by a clean single, stole second and raced home on Hulihan's Texas Leaguer which Waite in left field threw wild.

Norwich Scores in Second and Third

Norwich scored all their runs early in the game. In the second Laird reached first on an infield error and trotted around the bases when Sullivan laced out a triple over the fence. Hulihan was then called in to relieve Elmer and retired the next three men. Maher accounted for the other tally for Norwich when he scored on a long flie by Laird.

Former President of Middlebury will Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon June 19---Governor of N. Y. to Speak at Graduation Exercises

ABOUT 60 TO GET DEGREES

Complete Commencement Program Announced by Acting-President Collins --- Musicale by Students Instead of Professionals

The one hundred and twenty-first Annual Commencement of Middlebury College will take place on the eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth of June. The number of baccalaureate degrees to be conferred this year is somewhat small in comparison with that of other years owing to the fact that the class entered college at a period when the war prevented many from attending college. The total number of degrees to be conferred is estimated at 60, 35 of the graduates being men and 25 women. The program which has recently been announced through the office of Acting President Edward Collins, shows some very interesting features principal among them being the announcement of Governor Nathan L. Miller of New York as the Commencement Speaker and that of Former President Jahn M. Thomas who will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon.

Governor Miller will speak at the Congregational Church on Monday morning, June 20, when the Graduation exercises and the confering of honorary degrees will be held. He was born in Solon, N. Y., in 1868, and is a graduate of the Groton Union School and the Cortland Normal School. He was admitted to the bar in 1893, after which he served in the law firm of Dougherty and Miller for several years. He was justice of the Supreme Court of New York from 1903 to 1913 and also served as associate justice of the Appellate Division and associate judge of the Court of Appeals. He was elected as governor of the state of New York in 1920 and has since served in that capacity. Governor Miller is also an orator of unusual ability. President John M. Thomas of Pennsylvania State College, and for thirteen years the president of Middlebury, will deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday morning in the Mead Memorial Chapel.

The pre-Commencement activities will begin on Saturday morning with the Class Day exercises which will be held on the college campus. The Alumnae Association will hold their annual meeting and luncheon at noon, and at two o'clock the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees will take place in the National Bank. On Saturday afternoon also the Alumni-'Varsity Baseball Game will be held at Porter Field and it promises to offer some unusual attractions and an opportunity to see old Middlebury stars in action. The Commencement Concert this year will be given by student musical organizations of the college, instead of securing outside talent, and will be held at 8:15 in the Chapel.

On Sunday in addition to the Baccalaureate Sermon which will be held in the morning, the custom of Steps

A Permanent Organization

There is evident at Middlebury a very real and indeed unfortunate lack of class cohesion after graduation. Following Commencement the class as such rather loses its identity and its connection to the college is limited to individuals, fraternal affiliations, and sectional alumni associations, the latter being less inclusive than they should properly be. The class supplies a medium by which the alumni can be held together in smaller coherent bodies to which every graduate must belong. And yet class reunions are rare and there is nothing to keep alive that spirit of fellowship fostered through four years of association at Middlebury, save the natural ties of an alumnus for his Alma Mater and those too limited methods before enumerated.

Men return to Middlebury in June and at other various times during the year but there is no such real effort to gather together the men who graduated with each other as is evident in many other colleges. Alumni Days are featured elsewhere and the representation of each class on these occasions is a matter of real concern. Such alumni gatherings as are held annually at Cornell or, to take a smaller institution as an example, at Stevens, would be difficult to hold at Middlebury but would be a delightful addition to the activity of the college. Distance from the metropolitan centers is a handicap to undertakings of these sorts but the greatest difficulty is not found therein.

Rather it is found in the lack of authority manifest in class organization after the members have received their diplomas. The graduates are without an executive and correspondent in their class with whom to confer and to whom to look for announcements. The responsibility is not placed and in most cases the initiative is lacking. There is no one to take the lead in securing a winning attendance for such competition as that for the McCullough Attendance Cup awarded at Commencement, nor is there anyone to take the initiative in bringing classmates together in occasional reunions.

It would be a step in the right direction and the establishment of a happy precedent for the class of 1921 to convene and form in a permanent organization before it disbands this June. No class should leave Middlebury without first having elected a permanent class president and a secretary-treasurer. The advantage that will accrue from the establishment of these offices are so evident that they need no further commendation. Almost all college alumni are so organized. They know the value of definitely placed authority to supply the initiative and executive necessary to hold graduate bodies together. Middlebury graduating classes will do well to follow their example. The opportunity to take the lead awaits the class of 1921.

A Credit to the College

The Associated Glee and Mandolin Clubs have just completed a very successful season, and one which is especially worthy of commendation both from the standpoint of the benefit which has been afforded in musical training to the individual participators, and that which has been given the college through the very favorable impression which they have created throughout the state wherever they have been. By careful preparation under the directorship of Professor Alfred T. Larsen, they were able to present a program which was enthusiastically received both in their northern four-day tour and in their recent trip to Rutland. Commenting upon the latter The Rutland Herald says, "The audience was large and enjoyed every number, the young folks rather favoring the popular selections while the older auditors were keenly appreciative of the more serious numbers." From the other parts of the state press comments as well as those received in a more direct manner show that not only their musical performances were highly valued, but also the general excellence of the appearance which they presented as a body.

Surely there could be no better advertisement for the college than that which is derived from the intimate contact which outsiders have obtained in this way with a group which thus represents the college from a more cultural standpoint. Many people would perhaps be more attracted to this phase of college life and gain a better idea of the whole, than they would from various other sources which have not so direct or personal an appeal. It is certainly to be hoped that the Club next year will be able to equal or excel the standard which they have set this year, for, that they have filled a very important niche in promoting the welfare of Middlebury, has been emphatically proved.

Best Wishes

To the seven sophomore women who have just recently founded a local sorority at Middlebury, The Campus extends its heartiest congratulations, and to Theta Chi Epsilon, this newest of Greek Letter Societies on the hill, we extend our best wishes.

At Dartmouth, we are told, there is a sophomore society whose purpose and function is described as "Service to Dartmouth." We are confident that Theta Chi Epsilon will assume its position on the campus inspired by some such expression as "Service to Middlebury." The sororities and fraternities already established here welcome her to their ranks.

Owing to final examinations The Campus will not be published again until the Commencement issue, June 21, 1921.

The Periscope

After days of dust and comparative absence of the town sprinkling cart, it strikes us as rather inconsistent when we find the artificial rain-maker busy at work this morning after that deluge of natural rain we had last night. The pilot must be paid by the hour.

When Gallagher landed on the ball for three bases in the Norwich game, we instinctively called to mind Shakespeare's words, "A hit, a very palpable hit."

The ever increasing predominance of benzine wagons varying from squawking Fords to "purring road giants" excites in us a Cinderella hope that some morning, looking forward to dragging weary legs to classes, James will report for orders with the Rolls.

In fairness to the reader we must acknowledge that the only equipage we ordinarily use, is the Lennox Ave. Express—"Change at 72nd St. for the Bron-nix!"

Speaking of vehicles, we were somewhat puzzled as to the nature of a contraption, which appeared upon our campus early this week. The theory was raised that a professor with a penchant for archaeology had purchased a replica of Stevenson's first steam engine. On closer inspection, however, the unknown was revealed as a killing factor in the lives of the insectae who habitate our campus trees.

We nominate for a niche in the Hall of Fame, that mortal whose happy lot shall be to discover how to shut off an alarm without waking up.

We, ourselves, have always had an ambition to fool the alarm some morning and be awake when the thing went off.

Speaking of the N. Y. Philharmonic, The Columbus Evening Dispatch says, "A great concert by a gorgeous band". Undoubtedly if they had been speaking of our own college performers at home ball games, they would have said, "A charming recital by a harmonic orchestra."

The Indian Chief who has his face on the right hand side of every U. S. nickle in circulation, has every claim to fame. But we have no such desire for the dizzy heights. With vacation fast approaching, we would rather have our hands on one $10 bill.

"Omar, the tentmaker" has evidently been awarded the contract for the senior tailoring. "Kismet" stepped from off the screen Friday night and made his appearance in chapel Saturday morning.

As we glance at our watch and note the passage of each fleeting moment, ever nearer the final day of reckoning, our heart fills with fear and trembling.

One half of us took our first swim of the season last wk. in the crystal waters of Lake Dunmore, and ducked Ye Ed., The New. The water was as yet frigid. We saw a trout who still wore his winter muffler and mittens.

Our ebulent spirits, which are conducive to a cheery colyum, were somewhat dampened by the torrid weather of the week end.

NEW SORORITY FOUNDED— SEVEN CHARTER MEMBERS

Theta Chi Epsilon Established as Local Society at Middlebury

A new local sorority, Theta Chi Epsilon, has recently been founded in the Women's College with seven charter members from the sophomore class.

Since its formation the sorority has been meeting in the Woman's Club rooms and has secured for the coming year the rooms in the Battell Block now occupied by the Delta Upsilon fraternity. The design of the pin is a gold square crossed by a feather bearing the Greek letters T X E, the square containing three pearls and the pledge pin is a tiny golden feather. Lillies of the valley have been chosen as the sorority flower and buff and blue are its colors.

TRACK TEAM LOSES AT CANTON, 77-49

Loss of Capt. Robinson Handicaps 'Varsity—Fast Records Made—100-Yards Covered in 10 Flat

Middlebury's aggregation of track stars lost to St. Lawrence University last Thursday by a score of 77 to 49, fighting desperately to overcome the loss of Captain Robinson, who was injured at the New England Intercollegiates at Boston a week ago. Some very fast records were made, notably in the century dash which was won by Caldwell of St. Lawrence in 10 flat. Darby of Middlebury placed third in this event.

In the one mile run Shelvey pulled a surprise by beating the much heralded Goolden in the fast time of 4 minutes and 37 seconds, which is within 3 seconds of equalling our present record. Peck carried the blue and white into second place in both hurdle events, while Gollnick placed third in the low hurdles. One of the upsets of the meet was Whitten being disqualified in the pole vault, this giving them all three places in this event. In the two mile run Goolden galloped in for first place in 10 minutes and 14 seconds, with Cole a close second and Lewis third.

Kane of St. Lawrence won the hammer throw with a distance of 135 feet 2 inches. Potratz again beat out his old rival "Don" Howe (Middlebury ex-'22) and took second in this event and then proceeded to take first place in the discus throw, with a distance of 111 feet one inch, Baldwin taking second for us. Kendall and Gray placed second and third respectively in the half mile run, which was won by Cole of St. Lawrence in 2 minutes 5 seconds, and Darby took second in the 220 yard dash. Gollnick won the broad jump, stretching out 20 feet 3 inches, with Cook coming in for a third.

Summary

100 yard Dash—Won by Caldwell (St. L.); second Murphy (St. L.); third Darby (M). Time 10 seconds.

RAIN STOPS LIKELY WIN OVER R. P. I. AT TENNIS

Last Saturday at Troy, Middlebury met Rensselaer in tennis and though the score stood one apiece when rain stopped the match, the chances were good that the Middlebury tennis team would break into the winning column.

Ashley easily defeated Capt. Browne of R. P. I. and Capt. Gollnick was leading Riddle 3-1 when the game was called off. The courts were in poor condition and the engineers did not exhibit a very fast brand of tennis.

Ashley defeated Capt. Browne 6-1, 6-4; Eldon defeated Davis 6-3, 6-0; Gollnick leading Riddle 3-1.

Team Outclassed at Williamstown

The Middlebury team met Williams last Friday at Williamstown and was completely outclassed, losing by the score of 4-0. None of the Williams men were hard pressed.

Fraker won from Ashley 6-2, 6-2; Taylor won from Davis 6-0, 6-0; Herran and Allison won from Lane and Ashley 6-2, 6-2.

Women Hold Track Meet

A dual track meet between the Freshmen and Sophomore women was held on Wednesday and Friday mornings of this week. Both teams showed, by their fine work, that they had been well prepared for the meet. However, the Sophomores were too much for the Freshmen and won from them by a score of 47-26. The first places in the events were as follows: 100 yd. dash, Evelyn Ryle; hurdles, Geraldine Wimmitt; running broad jump, Evelyn Ryle; running high jump, Emily Hobbs; standing broad jump, Lulu Abel; 75 yd. dash, Evelyn Ryle; 30 yd. dash, Lulu Abel. The relay was won by the Freshmen.

Recital by Music Students

A fair sized and appreciative audience attended the recital given by the students of the music department in Mead Memorial Chapel last Friday evening. The program was varied, and Professors Hathaway and Larsen and Miss de Onata, as well as the individual students taking part, are to be congratulated upon the success and high character of the recital.

Sam Cohen '20, who is a student at Columbia Law School, is visiting at Middlebury and Lake Dunmore until after Commencement.

Blue Scores One More in Ninth

In the ninth Elmer hit to Conlin, with plenty of time to get his man who fielded the ball in good shape and at first, threw the ball yards over Billings' head. After Hulihan had flied out to Burns, Harris, fumbled a short infield bingle from Mead's bat, Elmer going from second to third on the play. At this critical stage of the game, Newton uncorked a wild pitch, allowing Elmer to score and Mead to take second. Vose hit a high one into Newton's territory. Spillane ran out for it, then decided not to take it and it fell between Newton and Spillane, where either might have gotten it. Mead, however, was caught off second for the second out. With a strike on Lobo, Drost was sent in to finish his time at bat and ended the game by striking out.

TO PLAY OFF TIE GAMES IN INTERFRAT. LEAGUE

At a meeting of the managers of the fraternity baseball teams last Saturday it was decided by a 4-1 vote that all tie games must be played off before the schedule closed. This will necessitate three more games which may materially change the final standing of the teams. On Wednesday A. S. P. will play off a tie with the Neutrals, on Thursday Chi Psi will play Deke, and on Saturday K. D. R. will play the Neutrals. The games will be seven inning contests.

St. Michael's Game Called by Rain

After two and a half innings had been played of the St. Michaels-Middlebury contest yesterday at Winooski, the game had to be called because of a sudden thunder shower which soaked the diamond. The score stood 0-0. Hastings was on the mound for Middlebury and Clark was pitching for St. Michael's. Both men were working well.
